The UC Berkeley Retirement Center and The Faculty Club Present

A Symposium on International Law and the Protection of Human Rights

Friday, February 26, 2009

4:00 pm

Is international law an effective instrument for advancing the cause of human rights, or is it a quaint set of rules honored only when they serve the interest of great powers? Who legislates and who enforces these rules?

Join us at the Faculty Club to hear the views of two experts, Professor David Cohen, Director of the War Crimes Studies Center, and Jeremy Kinsman, former Canadian Ambassador and Regents' Lecturer, and to discuss with them this timely and enduring subject.

The fee to attend this symposium is $10.00 per person and includes a wine and cheese reception preceding the event.

An Early Bird dinner will be offered for an additional charge after the event. Contact the Faculty Club for more information.

Registration

Advance registration is required to attend this event. Please contact the Faculty Club at (510) 540-5678 to register.

Parking for Retirement Center Sponsored Programs and Events

Retirees are eligible to purchase a "C" Central Campus parking permit when attending a Center-sponsored event. You may buy a permit in person at the Center or via postal mail. Permits are $5 each (plus $2 shipping and handling when purchased by mail) and allow the permit holder to park in any non-reserved parking space on campus. If ordering by mail, you must send a check or money to be received at the Center at least a week before the event to ensure timely delivery. For more information, contact the Center at (510) 642-5461.
